

CONSENT TO THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

Thank you for your interest in our news. We need your consent to be able to send it to you.

Who will process your personal data?

Us, the Unčovský family. The personal data controller will be Anna Unčovská, Reg. No. 08660891, registered office at Lesnická 811/38, 613 00, Brno, Czech Republic.

If you would like to get in contact with us, send us an e-mail at info@uncovsky.com at any time.

When will we contact you, what will we write to you and why?

In case you give us your consent to the processing of personal data and to the sending of newsletters (commercial communication), we will send you our news by e-mail. To do this, we need your e-mail address, which you hereby give us and at the same time you give us a consent to process your personal data according to these rules and our Personal Data Processing Information.

We will store your e-mail address for 3 years.

What if you don't want to hear from us anymore?

You can easily unsubscribe from the newsletter at any time by sending an e-mail to our contact address or by clicking on the link in the newsletter we send you. We will delete your e-mail address from our contact database. However, if we store your personal data in other database (for example, if you are a user of our platform) we may keep these data. Withdrawing your consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing of your data before the withdrawal.

We can also still keep the personal data we process on the basis of a legal title other than consent – for example to fulfil our legal obligations.

Who can help us with all this?

The following people and companies help us to send out newsletters:

- MailChimp (<https://mailchimp.com/>)
- Semplice (<https://www.semplice.com/>)

What are your rights?

First of all, we will be glad if you always write us first in case you like or dislike anything. Apart from that you also have the following rights:

- require us to inform you of the personal data we process;
- require us to give you an access to your data and have it updated or corrected, or request restriction of processing;
- require us to erase your personal data – unless it is personal data that we are obliged or authorized to further process under the relevant legislation;
- to data portability and the right to request a copy of the personal data processed;
- to file a complaint with the Office for Personal Data Protection;
- to effective judicial protection if you consider that your rights have been violated as a result of the processing of your personal data in violation of applicable legislation;
- you can also file and objection to the processing of your personal data.

Details regarding the processing of your personal data can be found in our Personal Data Processing Information available here.
